Hi Shuchi,

As discussed, we will not be able to provide an early release from your notice period. However, we understand that your mother is recovering from surgery and that you would like to be with her during this time.

Accordingly, subject to confirmation from sub-function lead, Thomas Sebastian, that all handover activities have been satisfactorily completed, you may proceed on leave. As per our records, you have the following leave balance available:

The screenshot displays the 'Time Information for Shuchi Jain' portal. It features a navigation bar with 'Absences', 'Time Accounts' (selected), 'Work Schedule', and 'Planned Working Time'. Below the navigation bar, there are filters for 'Date' (e.g., Dec 31, 2026), 'Account Status' (Open Accounts), and 'Account Type' (All). The main content area shows five leave account boxes: 'Privilege Leave - Current FY 2026' (20 days available), 'Privilege Leave Bank 2026' (28.39 days available), 'Casual Leave - Current FY 2026' (0.5 days available), 'Employee Wellness Leave Bank 2026' (5.16 days available), and 'Sick Leave - Current FY 2026' (4 days available).

Your last working day, as per the applicable notice period, remains 12 November. In case you exhaust your available leave balance and require additional time off, we will be happy to approve the remaining period as Leave Without Pay (LWP).

@Thomas Sebastian : Please let me know if she has the clearance to proceed on leave from 25th September?

Thanks

Ratika Garg
